Mothers' Club Resolutions.

At a meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Hondo, Texas, on the 15th day of June, A. D., 1917, it was unanimously voted to send resolutions to the Mass Meeting to be held at Dallas on the 16th inst., protesting the closing of the State University of Texas.

A committee was appointed to draft resolutions and the following were adopted:

Whereas, We, the members of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Hondo, Texas, regret the deplorable situation which exists between our Governor, the Senate and the Faculty.

Be it Resolved, That every mother's heart in Texas beats in sympathy with those interested in the welfare of higher education.

We seriously protest the closing of the University, not only for our personal interest but for the honor and welfare of the state at large.

We, the mothers and teachers, earnestly pray that the Divine Spirit will rest upon those interested in this matter, to lead them to act justly and wisely in this controversy satisfactorily.

That our University may continue to exist for the uplifting of our present and future generations.

That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Board of Regents, and to the local and state papers.

COMMITTEE.

We Have To Do It!

WE DID not want to do it! But for several months the increased cost of issuing the Anvil Herald has been a heavy tax upon us. We have struggled along hoping against hope that conditions would change for the better and we could continue our business in the usual way. But conditions are going from bad to worse. To an increased cost of over two hundred per cent for paper and an increased freight rate the government is fixing to add an increase in the mailing rate and levy an ad valorem tax on our advertising income. In addition to that the postal laws have outlawed a certain class of our advertising and after July 1st that will cut about $30.00 per month from our income that can not be replaced from any other source. So our course is inevitable. We must put up the subscription price of The Anvil Herald or we must discontinue the paper.

Therefore, from this date the subscription price of The Anvil Herald is $1.50 per year and no new subscriptions will be taken for a less rate.

Those who are already subscribers can by paying up all back accounts by September 1st, renew their subscriptions at the old price of one dollar a year if they desire. After Sept. 1st all renewals will be for the new rate of $1.50. We feel this to be only fair to those who have favored us with their patronage in the past.

Regretting the necessity for this increase but seeing no other alternative, we make the necessary change trusting we shall have your continued patronage. You will want the weekly visits of the old familiar Anvil Herald. I can only continue them to you by your coming to our financial relief by this increased price. Will you help us?

Very respectfully yours to serve,

FLETCHER DAVIS, Publisher.

HELP YOUR COUNTRY and Make Money for Yourself

Uncle Sam must have the money QUICKLY to build thousands of food and munition carrying ships, to raise, equip and maintain an army of 1,000,000 men; to give us a smashing big navy—in short, to enable our country to carry on its share of the great war for the FREEDOM OF THE WORLD

YOU can do YOUR part by lending the Government some of your savings. Invest now in one or more of the Liberty Loan Bonds. You will be helping yourself while you help your country. The bonds pay 3 1-2 per cent interest and are as good as gold. There is an easy payment plan. For example, if you want to buy one of the $50 bonds, you can make your payments at this bank, as follows:

2 per cent when you buy the bond	$ 1.00
18 per cent on June 28, 1917	9.00
20 per cent on July 30, 1917	10.00
30 per cent on August 15, 1917	15.00
30 per cent on August 30, 1917	15.00
TOTAL	$50.00

The bonds will be dated June 15, 1917, and will run for 30 years, when the Government will repay the principal. Twice a year the owner will receive interest at the rate of 3 1-2 per cent a year.

WOMEN'S NERVES

Women, more than men, have excitable nerves, because their work and physical strain tax their more delicate nervous systems and bring premature age and chronic weakness—unless treated intelligently.

Drug-laden pills and alcoholic concoctions cannot build up a woman's strength, but the concentrated medicinal food properties in

Here's convincing testimony from a Hondo woman.

Mrs. Jack Droitecourt, Hondo, says: "A severe attack of backache kept me in the house for two weeks. My back was a solid pain, scarcely letting up night or day. I felt miserable and wasn't able to attend to my household work. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Windrow's Drug Store, took the pains out of my back and completely cured me of the trouble. Three years have passed and it hasn't returned."

The Unadventurous.
At every corner handkerchiefs drop, fingers beckon, eyes besiege, and the last, the lonely, the rapturous, the mysterious, the perilous, changing clews of adventure are slipped into our fingers. But few of us are willing to hold and follow them. We are grown stiff with the ramrod of convention down our backs. We pass on and some day we come, at the end of a very dull life, to reflect that our romance has been a potted thing of a marriage or two, a satin rosette, kept in a safe deposit drawer, and a life-long feud with a steam radiator.—O. Henry in the "Green Door."

The Memory.

The memory is a very useful thing when it works right, but it often seems to be out of repair. Frequently it works like a carpet sweeper, picking up things no one has any mortal use for and passing over others of great value. The memory can be trained and a trained memory is more valuable than a trained nurse or a trained seal. A New Jersey man several years ago declared that he had a perfect memory and every one believed him till a clever person asked him to sing all the words of "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean." A faulty memory is very much like a nose-bleed. It can be cured for the while by putting brown paper under the lip or tying a string tightly about the finger.

Pennanite War.

The Pennanite war was a humorous name given to an early boundary dispute between the colonies of Connecticut and Pennsylvania. By the original charter granted to William Penn, the northern boundary of Pennsylvania was fixed at latitude 43 degrees north. Connecticut claimed as far south as 41 degrees, and both colonies made settlements in the disputed territory. There were many clashes that came near to actual fighting, but finally congress and the courts settled the dispute in favor of Pennsylvania.

Geographical Causes.

"Look at the progress of the women in Norway and Iceland and those other northern countries compared to the ones further south."

"Well, naturally, they have more latitude further up."

WHAT IS LAX-FOS

SIZING PEARLS ART

No Machine Yet Devised to String Gems Properly.

Only Clever, Practiced Fingers of Girls and Women Long Trained in Work Get Desired Results.

It appears that for pearl stringing no machinery has yet been devised to take the place of clever, practiced fingers. The pearl-stringers are, for the most part, girls and women; and generally they have learned their skill from other and older members of the family long engaged in the work.

Good light is one of the essential needs of the pearl-stringer, especially when she is employed in making or repairing pearl ornaments. All beads must be arranged according to size, and then, separately, and most carefully, sewn into place on their dainty framework. For example, if the design be that of a flower or a leaf, the skill lies in graduating from the largest pearl to the small one that touches the extreme point.

Only the finest silk is employed for stringing the finest pearls. Great beads, round and shiny, unmistakably artificial, and with no more luster than white marbles, may be allowed to hang together on catgut, but "orientals" must be threaded, "pearl kissing pearl," on silken strands worthy of their shape and "skin."

The art of the stringer lies in the apparently simple manner of tying the knot that attaches the snap. Sometimes also she has to make a knot between bead and bead, an operation that adds to the length of the necklace, but detracts from the beauty of the line of pearls. The knack of making this tiny knot will perhaps be acquired by the novice only after a year's practice; and the perfect hang of the beads, neither too loose nor too tight, depends upon this little knot.

There is no needle fine enough for threading small seed pearls; so the stringer makes her own from a bit of wire as thin as a hair. She arranges her pearls, if they are of different sizes, on a grooved board covered with billiard-table cloth, any other material, such as a green baize, being much too coarse.

The work of the pearl-stringer is so little known that it is doubtful whether one in a thousand women who stop to admire the pearls displayed in the jeweler's case ever give a thought to the patient fingers that have threaded the beautiful pearls and tied the almost invisible, cunning knots that link them to their diamond clasps.

The pearl is the only gem, it is claimed, needing not the hand of man to bring it to perfection, and history affords ample evidence of the intense fascination it has always exercised upon the people of every land. The pearl is the oldest object of personal adornment.

Indian mythology often speaks of the pearl, attributing its discovery to the god Vishnu, who is said to have caused it to be drawn from the ocean for his daughter Pandaja. The records of the Babylonians, Egyptians, Persians and Romans also contain many references to the gem. The wife of Emperor Caligula, for an ordinary betrothal feast, is said to have decked herself with pearls to the value of $1,000,000; and Julius Caesar presented Servilla, the mother of Brutus, with a specimen valued at $250,000.

Convicts' "El Dorado."

The greatest leniency is shown to criminals in New Zealand. Thus, in one jail, at the end of the South island, a prisoner may keep a race-horse, and is permitted to transact business concerning it. In the same jail well-behaved prisoners are allowed an afternoon out occasionally "on their own."

Prison authorities in New Zealand are believers in the moral effects of open air. In one of their institutions the newly arrived misdeedant is allowed the choice of living in jail or outside it, tents being erected at the back. This system of sending people to jail by letting them live outside has, however, its disadvantages. In one case the "prisoners," resenting hard treatment in the way of a "lock-out," lifted up the "jail" and deposited it far away in the bush.

Shun the Trouble Makers.

Make up your mind, come what will, that you will retain a happy, cheerful disposition, urges a confirmed optimist. If you find that there are some few people who "rub your fur the wrong way," do not seek their company. There are too many congenial souls who try to maintain an optimistic outlook on life and whose friendship is worth while cultivating to bother with those who are natural-born trouble makers. Borrow happiness and beauty from these sunny natures and leave the grouches to shrink into the shadows and grow bent and wrinkled.

HOW SHALL WE PAY FOR THE WAR?

A Constructive Criticism on the House Revenue Bill.

LOANS BETTER THAN TAXES

Five Reasons Why Excessive Taxes at the Outset of War Are Disadvantageous—Great Britain Example Worthy of Emulation—How the Taxes Should Be Apportioned.

By EDWIN R. A. SELIGMAN,
McVickar Professor of Political Economy, Columbia University.

On May 23, 1917, the House of Representatives passed an act "to provide revenue to defray war expenses and for other purposes." In the original bill as presented by the Committee of Ways and Means, the additional revenue to be derived was estimated at $1,810,420,000. The amendment to the income tax, which was tacked on to the bill during the discussion in the House, was expected to yield another $10,000,000 or $20,000,000.

In discussing the House bill, two problems arise:

I. How much should be raised by taxation?
II. In what manner should this sum be raised?

I. How Much Should Be Raised by Taxation?

How was the figure of $1,800,000,000 arrived at? The answer is simple. When the Secretary of the Treasury came to estimate the additional war expenses for the year 1917-18, he calculated that they would amount to some $6,000,000,000, of which $2,000,000,000 was to be allotted to the allies, and $2,000,000,000 was to be utilized for the domestic purposes. Thinking that it would be a fair proposition to divide this latter sum between loans and taxes, he concluded that the amount to be raised by taxes was $1,800,000,000.

There are two extreme theories, each of which may be dismissed with scant courtesy. The one is that all war expenditures should be defrayed by loans, and the other is that all war expenditures should be defrayed by taxes. Each theory is untenable.

It is indeed true that the burdens of the war should be borne by the present rather than the future generation; but this does not mean that they should be borne by this year's taxation.

Meeting all war expenses by taxation makes the taxpayers in one or two years bear the burden of benefits that ought to be distributed at least over a decade within the same generation.

In the second place, when expenditures approach the gigantic sums of present-day warfare, the tax-only policy would require more than the total surplus of social income. Were this absolutely necessary, the ensuing havoc in the economic life of the community would have to be endured. But where the disasters are so great and at the same time so unnecessary, the tax-only policy may be declared impracticable.

Secretary McAdoo had the right instinct and highly commendable courage in deciding that a substantial portion, at least, of the revenues should be derived from taxation. But when he hit upon the plan of 50-50 per cent., that is, of raising one-half of all domestic war expenditures by taxes, the question arises whether he did not go too far.

The relative proportion of loans to taxes is after all a purely business proposition. Not to rely to a large extent on loans at the outset of a war is a mistake.

Disadvantages of Excessive Taxes.

1. Excessive taxes on consumption will cause popular resentment.
2. Excessive taxes on industry will disarrange business, damp enthusiasm and restrict the spirit of enterprise at the very time when the opposite is needed.
3. Excessive taxes on incomes will deplete the surplus available for investments and interfere with the placing of the enormous loans which will be necessary in any event.

4. Excessive taxes on wealth will cause a serious diminution of the incomes which are at present largely drawn upon for the support of educational and philanthropic enterprises. Moreover, these sources of support would be dried up precisely at the time when the need would be greatest.

5. Excessive taxation at the outset of the war will reduce the elasticity available for the increasing demands that are soon to come.

Great Britain's Policy.

Take Great Britain as an example. During the first year of the war she increased taxes only slightly, in order to keep industries going at top notch. During the second year she raised by new taxes only 9 per cent. of her war expenditures. During the third year she levied by additional taxes (over and above the pre-war level) only slightly more than 17 per cent. of her war expenses.

If we should attempt to do as much in the first year of the war as Great Britain did in the third year it would suffice to raise by taxation $1,250,000,000. If, in order to be absolutely on the safe side, it seemed advisable to increase the sum to $1,500,000,000, this should, in our opinion, be the maximum.

In considering the apportionment of the extraordinary burden of taxes in war times certain scientific principles are definitely established:

How Taxes Should Be Apportioned.

(1) The burden of taxes must be spread as far as possible over the whole community so as to cause each individual to share in the sacrifices according to his ability to pay and according to his share in the Government.

(2) Taxes on consumption, which are necessarily borne by the community at large, should be imposed as far as possible on articles of quasi-luxury rather than on those of necessity.

(3) Excises should be imposed as far as possible upon commodities in the hands of the final consumer rather than upon the articles which serve primarily as raw material for further production.

(4) Taxes upon business should be imposed as far as possible upon net earnings rather than upon gross receipts or capital invested.

(5) Taxes upon income which will necessarily be severe should be both differentiated and graduated. That is, there should be a distinction between earned and unearned incomes and there should be a higher rate upon the larger incomes. It is essential, however, not to make the income rate so excessive as to lead to evasion, administrative difficulties, or to the more fundamental objections which have been urged above.

(6) The excess profits which are due to the war constitute the most obvious and reasonable source of revenue during war times. But the principle upon which these war-profit taxes are laid must be equitable in theory and easily calculable in practice.

The Proposed Income Tax.

The additional income tax as passed by the House runs up to a rate of 60 per cent. This is a sum unheard of in the history of civilized society. It must be remembered that it was only after the first year of the war that Great Britain increased her income tax to the maximum of 34 per cent., and that even now in the fourth year of the war the income tax does not exceed 42½ per cent.

It could easily be shown that a tax with rates on moderate incomes substantially less than in Great Britain, and on the larger incomes about as high, would yield only slightly less than the $532,000,000 originally estimated in the House bill.

It is to be hoped that the Senate will reduce the total rate on the highest incomes to 34 per cent. or at most to 40 per cent. and that at the same time it will reduce the rate on the smaller incomes derived from personal or professional earnings.

If the war continues we shall have to depend more and more upon the income tax. By imposing excessive rates now we are not only endangering the future, but are inviting all manner of difficulties which even Great Britain has been able to escape.

Conclusion.

The House bill contains other fundamental defects which may be summed up as follows:

(1) It pursues an erroneous principle in imposing retroactive taxes.
(2) It selects an unjust and unworkable criterion for the excess-profits tax.
(3) It proceeds to an unheard-of height in the income tax.
(4) It imposes unwarranted burdens upon the consumption of the community.
(5) It is calculated to throw business into confusion by levying taxes on gross receipts instead of upon commodities.
(6) It fails to make a proper use of stamp taxes.
(7) It follows an unscientific system in its flat rate on imports.
(8) It includes a multiplicity of petty and unproductive taxes, the vexatiousness of which is out of all proportion to the revenue they produce.

The fundamental lines on which the House bill should be modified are summed up herewith:

(1) The amount of new taxation should be limited to $1,250,000,000—or at the outset to $1,500,000,000. To do more than this would be as unwise as it is unnecessary. To do even this would be to do more than has ever been done by any civilized Government in time of stress.

(2) The excess-profits tax based upon a sound system ought to yield about $500,000,000.

(3) The income-tax schedule ought to be revised with a lowering of the rates on earned incomes below $10,000, and with an analogous lowering of the rates on the higher incomes, so as not to exceed 34 per cent. A careful calculation shows that an income tax of this kind would yield some $450,000,000 additional.

(4) The tax on whisky and tobacco ought to remain approximately as it is, with a yield of about $230,000,000.

These three taxes, together with the stamp tax at even the low rate of the House bill, and with an improved automobile tax, will yield over $1,250,000,000, which is the amount of money thought desirable.

The above program would be in harmony with an approved scientific system. It will do away with almost all of the complaints that are being urged against the present. It will refrain from taxing the consumption of the poor.

It will throw a far heavier burden upon the rich, but will not go to the extremes of confiscation. It will obviate interference with business and will keep unimpaired the social productivity of the community.

It will establish a just balance between loans and taxes and will not succumb to the danger of approaching either the tax-only policy or the loan-only policy. Above all, it will keep an undisturbed elastic margin, which must be more and more heavily drawn upon as the war proceeds.

Some kind of a webworm is destroying the cotton on many of the farms in this county. They usually make their appearance in the rankest growth in the field and where careless weeds are found. They eat the foliage of the plants and then web themselves up. Some efforts to control them by cultivation have been made without much success. They are too numerous for spraying to be economically done, and so they are getting in their work of destruction almost without let or hindrance.

Prof. O. W. Peters left Monday morning for Karnes City. He has been elected superintendent of the Karnes City schools for the 1917-18 scholastic year, and his visit was for the purpose of making arrangements for taking up his residence there before the opening of the school. From Karnes City he went to Austin where he will take a special course in physics. He has been principal of the Hondo school for three years, is an able instructor and we predict for the Karnes City schools a prosperous career under his superintendency.

Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Burgin and son, F. T. Burgin, of the Devine section, were in Hondo Wednesday. While here Mr. Burgin was an appreciated caller at this office. Mr. Burgin is somewhat run down in health and contemplates starting for an outing in the hill country about Bandera the first of the coming week. He will be accompanied on the trip by his son, T. E. Burgin.

The Dollar That Can't Be Spent

By Herbert Kaufman

Every dollar spent in advertising is not only a seed dollar which grows a profit for the merchant but is actually retained by him even after he has paid it to the publisher.

Advertising creates a good will worth the cost of the publicity.

It actually costs nothing. While it uses funds it does not use them up. It helps the founder of a business to grow rich and at the same time keeps his business from not dying when he does.

It eliminates the personal equation. It perpetuates confidence in the store and makes it possible for a merchant to withdraw from business without having the profits of the business withdrawn from him. It changes a name to an institution—an institution that will survive after the death of its builder.

It is really an insurance policy which costs nothing—pays a premium each year instead of calling for one, and renders it possible to change the entire personnel of a business without disturbing its prosperity.

Advertising renders the business stronger than the man—independent of his presence. It permanentizes systems of merchandising, the track of which is left for others to follow.

A business which is not advertised must rely upon the personality of its proprietor, and personality in business is a decreasing factor. The public does not want to know the man who owns the store—it isn't interested in him, but in his goods. When an unadvertised business is sold it is only worth as much as its stock of goods and fixtures. There is no good will to be paid for—it does not exist—it has not been created. The name over the door means nothing except to the limited stream of people from the immediate neighborhood, any of whom could tell you more about some store ten miles away which has regularly delivered its shop news to their breakfast tables.

It is as shortsighted for a man to build a business which dies with his death or ceases with his inaction as it is unfair for him not to provide for the continuance of its income to his family.

Mary Alden just stumbled into the motion picture field after trying art and the legitimate. She is a native of New Orleans and was educated at Notre Dame college, Montreal. Then she took up illustrating at the Art Students' league, New York, and because she needed money to help pay for her lessons she applied for a place in the company of Sis Hopkins.

This she regarded at the time merely as a temporary expedient. But, discovering that she really had dramatic ability, she considered herself fortunate when the following season she found a position with Minnie Maddern Fiske.

It was at the close of this engagement that she chanced to visit a motion picture studio and was requested by the director to walk across the scene. The fascination of acting before the lens took hold of her on the spot, and today she is taking character-heroine leads in the Mutual program under the direction of D. W. Griffith.

Above all things Miss Alden is fond of the outdoor life of California. She is expert with the tennis racket and the golf club. She can ride superbly, and when it comes to making a motorcar do tricks she is there, par excellence. With it all—and perhaps it is because this characteristic is so strongly developed in her that her success has been so great—there is innate modesty

DIVER IS NOT NEW

Crude Undersea Boat Blew Up
Federal Ship 58 Years Ago.

On the night of February 17, 1864, the United States steamship of war, Housatonic, on blockade duty off Charleston, S. C., was sunk by the first submarine successfully used in offensive effort, according to eyewitnesses and published accounts, observes the Washington Post.

The submarine boat was designed by Horace L. Hundley and built under his supervision at Mobile in 1863. She was built of boiler iron and her extreme length was about thirty feet, with a five or six-foot beam and about six feet depth of hold. In general contour she resembled a cigar, sharp at both ends. She was propelled by a screw, the shaft of which ran horizontally along her hold, almost from stem to stern, and was turned by the manual force of eight men seated along it on either side working cranks.

The only hatchway was circular, about three feet in diameter, with a low combing around it, which was placed well forward, and when desired could be closed by an iron cap working on hinges and made airtight. In the forward part of the cap was inserted a clear glass bull's-eye, through which the pilot could see.

She was provided with watertight compartments, by filling or emptying of which she could sink or rise, and to enable her to rise instantly her ballasting of railroad bars was placed on her bottom outside of the hull, and by means of keys accessible to her crew could be detached in a moment, so that she could rise quickly to the surface.

Not anticipating an early opportunity of using the dangerous vessel against the fleet of Farragut, General Maury sent her by rail to General Beauregard at Charleston, believing the water of that harbor better suited to her peculiar construction.

General Beauregard's call for volunteers to man this dangerous craft was promptly answered by Lieutenant Payne of Virginia and eight sailors. She was submerged till the combing of her hatch alone was visible. Her commander, Payne, was standing in the hatchway in the act of ordering her to be cast off, when the swell of a passing steamer rolled her over and sank her instantly with her eight men in several fathoms of water. Lieutenant Payne sprang out of the hatchway as the boat sank from under him, and he alone was left alive.

Again the boat was raised and made ready, and her owner, Captain Hundley, took her for a practice cruise into Stone river. For days the return of Hundley and his crew was watched for in vain. After a week's search she was found inclined at an angle of 40 degrees, her nose driven deep into the soft mud of the bottom. Hundley was standing, dead, at his post, a candle in one hand, the other stiff, in a vain effort to unclasp the hatch. Lieut. George E. Dixon of the Twenty-first Alabama volunteers, finally engaged with eight men to take her against the Housatonic.

The fate of the warship was plain, but the fate of the submarine remained a mystery until the wreck of the former was raised, more than eight years later, in the summer of 1872. Then she was found hanging to the rudder chains of the hulk. It was made plain therefore that she had not carried the torpedo in front, as Beauregard suggested, but had towed it astern, as Hundley originally devised. She had actually passed under the Housatonic and was making her way aft to safety when her upper works caught in the rudder chains of the victim. The torpedo exploded under the main mast of the ship and blew a great hole in her hull.

SUDDEN DEATH

Caused by Disease of the Kidneys.

The close connection which exists between the heart and the kidneys is well known nowadays. As soon as kidneys are diseased, arterial tension is increased and the heart functions are attacked. When the kidneys no longer pour forth waste, uræmic poisoning occurs and the person dies and the cause is often given as heart disease, or disease of brain or lungs.

It is a good insurance against such a risk to send 10 cents for a large trial package of "Anurie"—the latest discovery of Dr. Pierce. Also send a sample of your water. This will be examined without charge by expert chemists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. This "Anurie" of Dr. Pierce's is 37 times more active than lithia, for it dissolves uric acid in the system, as hot water does sugar. It relieves backache, lumbago, rheumatism, quickly. 50c. at druggists.

BELIEVED IN SAFETY FIRST

Customer Didn't Care to Enter into Any Argument With Barber Who Was Shaving Him.

Seating himself in the end chair the fat plumber said to the barber:

"That's some car standing out in front there; who is the owner?"

"Oh, that's just a new boat I bought."

"How much is it worth?"

"Only about $2,000."

The plumber softly whistled.

"I have been wanting to see you for some time," the barber remarked.

"What for?"

"About some repairs."

"What repairs?"

"How much would it cost me to fix that whatyoumaycall on this jigger here and connect it up with that dingus over there?"

"About $10."

"I can get a new fixture for less than that."

"Is that so? Well, let me see just what you want done."

This brought a laugh from the other barbers and waiting patrons.

"Gosh! First he says $10 and then he wants to know what is to be done!" the head barber ejaculated.

Just as the fat plumber was leaving the chair a prosperous looking man came to the front of the shop, got into the big touring car, and drove rapidly away.

"Ha, ha," the head barber laughed. "I fooled you about that automobile, didn't I?"

"I should say not."

"Then why didn't you hand me an argument?"

"I knew you were joshing me all the time," the plumber replied, "but any time I am lying flat on my back and a man is standing over me with a razor in his hand, he can say anything he likes and get away with it. I am strong for safety first."—Youngstown Telegram.

Fishing by Telephone.

A strange way of discovering the whereabouts of fish is practiced in some parts of Norway, and the method was discovered by a clever Norwegian. A microphone, which is an instrument that will transmit the slightest sound, is lowered into the water from a fishing boat and a wire from the microphone is attached to a telephone fixed in the boat. The operator takes the receiver of the telephone and places it to his ear, ready to signal to the fishermen when he hears the least sound beneath the waters, and the fishing boat is then immediately steered in the direction whence the sounds come. The result is—a splendid haul.

As cod, herring, and mackerel swim in enormous shoals, their passage through the water causes a rushing sound which is clearly heard by the fishermen, who immediately steer in the required direction and let down their nets.

Great Walkers.

Charles Dickens was a great walker. "Twelve, fifteen and even twenty miles a day were none too much for Dickens." Sir Walter Scott, too, walked "20 or 30 miles without fatigue, notwithstanding his limp." Browning, when past seventy, could take long walks, and Wordsworth could walk 20 miles a day after he had passed sixty years of age.

De Quincey considered 14 miles a day necessary for his health, and Lamb, notwithstanding his "almost immaterial legs," could walk well. Beethoven always took his daily walks of five or more miles in all manner of weathers, while Turner traveled 20 miles a day, sketching as he walked.

Herbert Spencer, at thirteen, in a fit of homesickness, walked 48 miles one day and 47 the next; and it is claimed that Tolstoi, at fifty-five, walked 130 miles in three days.

Medina County Farmers' Union. Medina County Farmers' Union met in regular county session with the Yancey Local Union, Saturday, June 9th, and were treated to a fine dinner for which the ladies of Yancey local have our thanks.

Besides transacting their usual business resolutions, were adopted as follows:—

Resolution 1. Whereas, the government has come to realize the scarcity of food and feed, not only in this country but throughout the world, and is urging the farmers to organize and grow more food and feed. And whereas, it has been the slogan of the Farmers' Educational and Co-Operative Union of America, from the beginning of the organization, to urge the farmers to raise more food and feed crops and less cotton. Therefore, be it resolved by the Educational and Co-Operative Union of Medina County now in session at Yancey, Texas, June 9th, 1917, that we offer the co-operation of this organization for the furtherance of this effort.

Resolution 2. Whereas, the farmers receive for the products of their labor only about 27 per cent of what the consumer pays for the same. Therefore, be it resolved that the Farmers' Educational and Co-Operative Union of Medina County, now in session, go on record as urging the government to do all in its power to eliminate the speculation between the producer and consumer.

After the County Union had closed its session, Fletcher Davis, Field Agent of the State Department of Agriculture, delivered a brief lecture and succeeded in organizing a County Farmers' Institute, of which the officers of the Farmers' Union were elected to serve as officers of the Institute. J. A. Watson and H. R. Wernette were elected delegates to the State Institute at Austin July 25-27 inclusive.

The next regular county meeting will be held at Biry, on Saturday, July 7th, when the officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

Bowel Complaints in India.

In a lecture at one of the Des Moines, Iowa, churches a missionary from India told of going into the interior of India, where he was taken sick, that he had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him and believed that it saved his life. This remedy is used successfully in India both as a preventive and cure for cholera. You may know from this that it can be depended upon for the milder forms of bowel complaint that occur in this Country. Obtainable everywhere.

When we go on an extended visit we take it with us." Obtainable everywhere.

Wake Up, America!

(Published at request of County Judge R. J. Noonan.)

The trouble with the people of this country is that they think of the war as being three or four thousand miles away. This is the wrong angle from which to view it—the war is a week away, for that is the time it would take the German fleet to reach New York and Galveston harbors.

The German Government has made up its mind that America shall pay for this war. Ambassador Gerard told us this in the plainest language some months back, and who knows better the feelings, sentiments and intentions of the German Government than our Ex-Ambassador at Berlin?

Supposing that the people of this country (Texas in particular) continue to be indifferent to the fact that money and supplies are urgently needed to keep fleets of the United States, Great Britain and France at their present efficiency.

Drained by years of financial and physical strain, our Allies will be sufficiently weakened and demoralized to allow the German fleet to venture forth. Where will they go? To England, which has been drained of billions of dollars? No, they will carry out their threat of making America pay.

The American nation possesses intelligence second to none in this world and yet they are suffering the fate of all wealthy and successful nations, they have become sluggish with ease.

We should recognize facts instead of making it necessary for German shells to fall in the streets of New York, Portland, Maine, Galveston, and Brownsville, before we wake up.

We are at war. This sounds common place. Everybody knows it, you say. They do not! To know a thing is to recognize a fact in all its bearings, so we say without fear of contradiction, that the American people do not know that we are at war.

Not only are we at war but we are at war with a relentless enemy, a vicious enemy, an enemy prepared to do unspeakable things to our women and children.

Wake up America!

A Humble Worker.

He does not look like a very important part of a big automobile organization, this stooped, grizzled man, but the president of a great motorcar company, according to Popular Science Monthly, says that Magnet Bill saves his salary a dozen times over every day he works. Rain or shine, summer or winter, Magnet Bill may be seen walking slowly about the automobile plant, his eyes fixed on the ground.

He gets his nickname from the fact that his tools consist solely of a tin bucket and a big steel magnet, strapped to the end of a shovel handle. It is his duty to save automobile tires by removing from the roadway every nail and piece of metal that might cause a tire puncture. Thousands of cars are run over this roadway to the testing place, and without the precautions taken by Magnet Bill the cost for cut and punctured tires would amount to many thousands of dollars yearly.

Discovering Columbus.

During a recent campaign a Tammany leader on the East side, a self-made man and one not entirely completed yet in some parts, was addressing a mass meeting of Italian-born voters on behalf of his party's ticket.

"Gentlemen and fellow citizens," he began, "I deem it an honor to be permitted to address you upon the issues of the day. I have always had a deep admiration for your native land. I venerate the memory of that great, that noble, Eytalian who was the original discoverer of this here land of ours.

"Why, gentlemen, at me mother's knee I was taught to sing that inspiring song, 'Columbus, the Jim of the Ocean!'

Whereupon there was loud applause.—Saturday Evening Post.

City of Many Names.

No capital city has changed its name so often as Constantinople, which was originally known as Lygos. In B. C. 658 this name was discarded for that of Byzantium, which remained in use until the capture of the city by Septimus Severus, who rechristened it Roma Nova. On making it his capital, Constantine the Great endowed it with his own name, and it is still Constantinople among western nations. This name, however, is ignored by the Turks, who since they obtained possession of Constantinople have preferred to call it Stamboul.

Success.

"My first rich patient was the making of me," confessed the doctor.

"Did you make a marvelous cure?"

"Oh, no. But I got enough money to move into a fashionable neighborhood, and then I called myself a specialist."

"I have been using Chamberlain's Tablets for indigestion for the past six months, and it affords me pleasure to say I have never used a remedy that did me so much good."—Mrs. C. Riley, Illion, N. Y. Chamberlain's Tablets are obtainable everywhere.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful to-night and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

A Rival Retort.

The proprietors of two rival livery stables, situated alongside each other in a busy street, have been having a lively advertising duel lately.

The other week one of them stuck up on his office window a long strip of paper bearing the words:

This bit of sarcasm naturally caused some amusement at the expense of the rival proprietor, but in less than an hour he neatly turned the tables by pasting the following retort on his own window:

"Sure. The wind blows them along!"

—Topeka State Journal.

Its Charms.

"I hear the new house you are building, Mrs. Comeup, has some unusual features!"

"Yes, indeed. It has a spiral stairway and an octopus library."

A Famous Hymn.

Mrs. Sarah Flower Adams wrote the famous hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Mrs. Adams was an Englishwoman, born in 1805. She was a writer of note in the periodicals of the time, and she also composed a catechism for children which was published in 1845. Just at what time and under what circumstances the hymn was written is not known. It was first published in 1841, but the author did not live to know the fame the authorship brought her. She died at forty-four, and since that time the lines she penned have sung themselves into the hearts of untold millions the world over.

Why Patriarchs Lived Longer.

The real reason why the patriarchs lived longer than we do now was because in those days the fount of humanity was fresher, says a writer. While immunity to certain diseases has been handed down to us by our parents, we have also received the weakened vitality which was theirs as a result of their fight against disease. Sooner or later the race will become immune to tuberculosis, but with that immunity will come the diminished power as a result of mankind's long fight against the white plague.

Talked Even Then.

Mr. Styles—So you've been to the dentist all the afternoon?

Mrs. Styles—Yes, dear. "Well, there's one thing certain; you couldn't talk much when he was working on your teeth."

"Oh, yes, I could. Do you know, the dentist said he never saw a woman who could talk like me with her eyes."

Bigamist Arrested.

George Normington, a young white man, was arrested here Tuesday by Sheriff J. F. Bader and taken to Brackett by Kinney County officers on a charge of bigamy Wednesday.

It seems that shortly after Normington had married a young girl in Brackett and left for the east, it was learned that he had an undivorced wife and he was arrested on complaint of the bride's relatives.

Services at the Catholic Church.

On week-days Holy Mass is celebrated at 7:30 A. M. May Devotions on Wednesday and Friday at 7:30 P. M.

Notice Horsemen.

I have bought the Robert Riff horse and will stand him for the season at the E. C. Gefinger farm, New Fountain, at $8.00, four dollars cash and $4.00 on arrival of the colt.

42-8t. HENRY BOHLEN. Telephone 27-1 long, 1 short.

It may be well enough also to mention that the girl who thinks she looks her best in her bathing suit will be slow about settling down to house-keeping.

FEW COLD FACTS ABOUT HEAT

Temperature, Which Is Merely Matter of Vibration of Molecules, Mysterious Force of Nature.

Heat is so common that most of us never give it a thought except to complain of it in summer and coax it in winter. And yet heat is one of the most difficult things in nature to understand. It is as mysterious as electricity, says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Heat is not a substance. It is merely the vibration of the molecules composing the material heated. Every material is made up of molecules, and each molecule is composed of atoms. Molecules of matter are held together by a force called "cohesion."

At absolute zero, colder yet than liquid air, or minus 270 degrees, all molecules are at rest. As the temperature rises the molecules begin to move to and fro. The higher the temperature is raised the further and faster swing the molecules.

Heat is produced by combustion of fire, by friction, such as rubbing a coin on the sleeve; by electricity in the electric furnace, by chemical action and otherwise. No matter how heat is produced its effect is always the same.

The molecules of a bar of iron are at rest at 459 degrees below zero. As the temperature rises they begin to oscillate. As more and more heat is applied they swing further and further apart, until finally they begin to roll one over another. Then the iron is melted and runs like water. If still more heat be applied the iron will be diffused into gases and dissipated in the air.

Apply heat to water and it forms a gas called steam and is easily dissipated in the air. Lower the temperature to 32 degrees and the molecules slow up and pack close together, forming ice.

Heat is closely related to light. Both travel through the ether in a wave motion. All light rays carry some heat. This explains how the sun supplies us with both heat and light.

Molecules are so minute that there are about one sextillion of them in a cubic inch of air. These at freezing temperature oscillate back and forth at the rate of 1,470 a feet a second. The average length of their path between oscillations is about one two-hundred and seventy-seven thousandth of an inch. Each comes into collision with its fellows about 5,000,000 times a second.

Odd Custom of the Bagobos.

Among the curious customs of the Philippine islands one of the most peculiar is that of "beautifying" the teeth by filing and blackening them, which prevails among the Bagobos of Mindanao, says Popular Mechanics. Both boys and girls of this tribe undergo the filing process before marriage, and this usually occurs while they are still very young. The youth who is to be thus decorated sits on the ground beside the native dentist, gripping between his teeth a stick of wood to keep his mouth open. The dentist then files each tooth down to a stump or else he cuts or breaks each to a point, as preferred by the beauty-seeking patient. All that is left of the teeth is blackened by a powder secured from a certain native tree.

Submarine Earthquakes.

The biggest waves in the world are termed by scientists earthquakes, solitary ocean and cyclone storm waves, a writer in the Boston Post says. Of these abnormal waves the biggest are those caused by submarine earthquakes. Some people who have seen these tremendous walls of water have estimated their height to be as much as 210 feet, but it seems probable that this is an exaggeration. Probably earthquake waves do not ever reach a height of more than 80 feet. A big submarine earthquake draws the ocean water away from the land for a long distance. Then the mighty wave comes smashing shoreward, probably the most terrific engine of destruction loosened by nature, destroying everything in its path.

LORRAINE HULING
IN "MOVIE FANS"

A NEW FALSTAFF (MUTUAL) RELEASE

PRETTY FALSTAFF STAR HAS SCORED IN MANY

Regarded as one of the most beautiful and talented young actresses in the land, Miss Lorraine Huling, who has lately joined the Mutual forces to be featured in ingenue parts, is a claimant for distinction in another sphere of endeavor, namely, in art circles.

In the latter sphere of artistic accomplishments, Miss Huling has an irrefutable reputation for her work in conjunction with such celebrities of the art world as Charles Dana Gibson, Charles Penfield, Irving Berlin, and others equally as well known.

Although she gained notable comment for her work in photoplays as "The Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch," "A Bachelor's Romance," and "Straight Road," it remained for Miss Huling to rise to her greatest as the stenographer in "Movie Fans," a Falstaff domestic-comedy to be released in the Mutual program. In this photoplay, Ernest the famous Falstaff lead, plays opposite Miss Huling.

Before taking up a career as a movie actress, Miss Huling had distinct success on the legitimate stage, having appeared in parts in companies headed by some of our greatest actors and actresses. "Movie Fans," deals with the love of a shipping clerk in a commercial house for the pretty stenographer. She is seeking a career on the screen. He is intent upon gaining fame as a scenario writer.

Finding that neither is fitted for the worldly position they seek, they marry and settle down to devote their time and affection to their baby girl.
